

TIPS FOR SUCCESS

Faculty Mentoring Lunchtime Series

This lunch series features distinguished faculty mentors in an informal session about mentorship, career advancement and satisfaction at UCSF.

Light lunch will be provided.

All faculty are welcome to attend. Registration is encouraged and will reserve you a lunch, but drop ins are welcome.

For more information, contact: Irené Merry at Irene.Merry@ucsf.edu or Mitchell D. Feldman, Associate Vice Provost, Faculty Mentoring, at mitchell.feldman@ucsf.edu.

Visit our website at: <http://tiny.ucsf.edu/ccfl>

Monday, October 29 | Noon–1:00 pm

Zuckerberg San Francisco General, Room H3009

Margot Kushel, MD

In this session, Dr. Kushel will share her own rich experiences as a research and career mentor at UCSF for trainees, fellows and junior faculty. She will share her reflections on how to integrate a commitment to health equity with success as a scholar, mentor and advocate.

Some of the topics she will address include:

- How to create and cultivate your research mentoring team
- Build a successful and satisfying career focused on health equity
- Tips for effective health advocacy

Margot Kushel, MD, is Professor of Medicine in the Division of General Internal Medicine at Zuckerberg San Francisco General Hospital and Trauma Center (ZSFG) and the Director of the UCSF Center for Vulnerable Populations. A practicing general internist, Margot’s research focuses on reducing the burden of homelessness on health through examining efforts to prevent and end homelessness and mitigating the effects of housing instability on health care outcomes. Passionate about training the next generation of researchers, she directs the UCSF Primary Care Research Fellowship. Margot has won the CTSI year-long mentor award (for medical students) and is the 2018 recipient of the Hal Luft Mentoring Award in Health Services and Health Policy. She believes that good mentorship involves showing up, building trust, and giving honest feedback, and that the best mentorship involves sponsorship as well as mentorship.

REGISTER AT: <http://tiny.ucsf.edu/29october>

Thursday, November 29 | Noon–1:00 pm

Parnassus Campus Library, Room CL220

Stuart Gansky, MS, DrPH

At this session, you will have the opportunity to meet with Dr. Gansky along with other faculty mentees and mentors as he shares his reflections on the knowledge and skills needed to advance in a research career at UCSF.

Among other topics, he will review:

- How to effectively “manage up”
- Developing your teams – your mentoring team and your research team
- Getting from a K award to an R award with a mentorship team

Stuart Gansky, DrPH, is Professor and Lee Hysan Chair of Oral Epidemiology in the Department of Preventive & Restorative Dental Sciences. His research focuses on oral health promotion and disease prevention, health disparities and health equity, as well as related statistical and epidemiologic methodological issues. He directs the UCSF Center to Address Disparities in Children’s Oral Health (known as CAN-DO) and the NIH-funded Coordinating Center to Help Eliminate/Reduce Oral Health Inequities in Children, which supports four ongoing large community-based UH3 prevention trials. He has mentored scores of students and junior faculty in clinical and translational research, is an Assistant Director of the UCSF CTSI Mentor Training Program, and was the recipient of the 2015 Academic Senate Distinction in Mentoring Award (Professor rank).

REGISTER AT: <http://tiny.ucsf.edu/29november>

